

First Year Course Descriptions for B. Comm and B. Comm (International) students

Students must consult the School calendar, available online on the J.E. Cairnes School of Business and Economics web site, for details of which courses they must and can take in any particular year.

This document only contains descriptions of the economics courses taught in these programmes.

EC118 Economics (IBC1)

The objective of this course is to introduce the basic concepts and principles of economic theory, and to illustrate how these principles can be used to analyse various issues and problems in everyday economic life. The following topics will be covered: Microeconomics: decision-making of individual households and firms, markets for goods and factors of production. Macroeconomics: national income accounting, models of the macro economy, applied economics. Various topics will be analysed using micro and macroeconomic theory.

EC105 Economics (IBC2, IBC3, IBC4, IBC5)

The objective of this course is to introduce the basic concepts and principles of economic theory, and to illustrate how these principles can be used to analyse various issues and problems in everyday economic life. The following topics will be covered: Microeconomics: decision-making of individual households and firms, markets for goods and factors of production. Macroeconomics: national income accounting, models of the macro economy, applied economics. Various topics will be analysed using micro and macroeconomic theory.

EC125 Geilleagar

Eacnamaíocht Fheidhmeach

Cuirimid romhainn san eacnamaíocht fheidhmeach plé leis an usaid is féidir a bhaint as uirlisí theoric na heacnamaíochta chun ceisteanna and fadhbanna éagsúla sa ghnáth shaol gteilleagrach a mhiondealú. Cuimsíonn an t-ábhar roinnt de choincheapa bunúsacha na heacnamaíochta, gnéithe den mhicreacnamaíocht agus roinnt ceisteanna san mhaicreacnamaíocht.

Micreacnamaíocht

Réamhrá do phríosabail na micreacnamaíocht atá sa chúrsa seo. Scrúdaíonn an mhicreacnamaíocht na cinntí a dhéanann teaghlaigh agus gnólachtaí aonraice. Lena chois sin, miondealáíonn an mhicreacnamaíocht an chaoi a n-oibríonn margaí aonraice.

Maicreacnamaíocht

Réamhchúrsa sa mhaicreacnamaíocht atá anseo. Scrúdaítear na comhghaolmhaireachtaí idir na príomh ghníomhairí sa gheilleagar comhiomlán. Díorthaítear, freisin, comhiomláin náisiúnta áirithe tré úsáid a bhaint as samhlacha simplí na maicreanamaíochta.